

The Light of God

through the Transfiguration of Christ

This light, belongs to the non-created divine reality, but is for those blessed by God something fully possible to experience and literally see, be a part of, and even become an expression of.

